Handwritten text in an Indic script, possibly Grantha or Tamil. The text is densely packed across approximately six horizontal lines. The characters are small and highly stylized, with many characters appearing to be variations of a few basic forms. The script is written in a traditional, slightly slanted manner. There are some larger characters that may represent specific symbols or markers within the text. The overall appearance is that of a well-used manuscript page.

Handwritten marginal notes on the left side of the page.

Main body of handwritten text in a historical script, likely Devanagari, arranged in approximately 10 horizontal lines.

Vertical text on the left margin, likely a commentary or index.

Main body of handwritten text in Devanagari script, consisting of approximately 10 lines of dense characters.
